CHICKEN BARBECUES GET EARLY START THIS YEAR IN MAINE

Maine chicken barbecues are getting an early start this year, according to Robert W. Stubbart, poultry marketing specialist, State Department of Agriculture.

One of the first barbecues, Stubbart reported, will be held at Ellsworth on Thursday, March 31, at 7:30 p. m. with Walter S. Rose, chairman, and the Ellsworth Junior Chamber of Commerce, sponsor.

Another chicken barbecue will be served at Bethel Area High School, Bethel, Sunday noon, April 3, as a highlight of the two-day annual planning session of the Maine State Junior Chamber of Commerce. Stubbart said the Bethel Jaycees will be hosts and Steven G. Glass of Maplewood Poultry Co. is in charge of the barbecue.

"How to Do It" information on Maine chicken barbecues, which are expected to reach an all-time high this season, is available upon request from the State Department of Agriculture.

ONLY A STUMP REMAINS. Pictured above is all that is left of what used to be "the birch tree growing from a pine stump" in Albany. During recent years this well known landmark had taken much abuse and gradually lost its beauty. Recently it was cut down by the highway crew. Just how long this oddity of nature had lent its beauty to the drive along the highway on the shore of Songo Pond no one knows. It is thought by some that it may have been there over 100 years. It is reported that the late Eben S. Kilborn was to have said that he stopped and rested in the shade of this tree when he moved from Harrison to West Bethel. According to The Bethel News, January 6, 1904, "In 1854, he (Mr. Kilborn) came with his mother to West Bethel and settled on a farm." On the left the tree is shown as it looked forty odd years ago.

PARK & RECREATION COM. HAS PAMPHLETS FOR BOATING ENTHUSIASTS

Getting ready for the boating season?

If you are, the State Park and Recreation Commission is recommending two new pamphlets for reading. Director Lawrence Stuart said this week.

Available to interested persons at no cost are the brochures "Maine State of Maine Waterway Marking System" and "Maine Waterway Marking System". The first pamphlet contains the details of the new law giving the Commission jurisdiction over marking of all Maine waterways not covered by the U. S. Coast Guard. The second illustrates markings and their meaning.

Stuart said the new program, approved by the last regular session of the Legislature, is designed to provide a uniform marking system and to promote safe sailing.

Eugene P. Hart is waterways supervisor for the Commission and Stuart said inquiries would be welcomed by the supervisor.

PEPPER FOR DISCONTINUANCE

To the Honorable County Commissioners of Oxford County: The undersigned respectfully requests that the portions of the County Way leading from Bethel to Albany (State Aid Highway No. 2) in the Town of Bethel be discontinued by your board as provided in Title 23 of the Maine Code.

Witness my hand and seal this 10th day of February 1966.

MAINE LOSING TO OTHER STATES IN TEACHER HIRE

Maine towns may be losing to other states in the race to hire the available supply of new teachers, the Maine Teachers Association says.

Many Maine school superintendents are unable to sign up new teachers graduating this June because the salary they can offer is still in doubt. Prolonged salary negotiations, often involving differences between school boards and city governments, may delay salary decisions until the crop of graduates has been thinned by out-of-state bidding.

Massachusetts superintendents are in a particularly favorable position because their school boards are financially independent and make budget decisions without reference to other agencies.

Massachusetts superintendents must offer, by state law, a minimum $4,000 starting salary but many communities will go as high as $5,000 for new teachers, MTA said.

In Maine any graduate with good qualifications will be able to command $4,500. New teachers may get more if they are willing to go to communities off the beaten track or have specialized in scarce areas such as girls physical education.

Despite the rising level of beginning salaries Maine graduates continue to leave the state. Sixty-three percent of the Maine teachers education graduates entered teaching in the state in 1965, by 1966 the number had dropped to 65 per cent, MTA said.

CLUB SCOUTS

Then I After school we went to our Den Mothers home and said the pledge. We finished making our shirts then we were told what our shirt would be about. We had a piece of cake in honor of Ronald Jackson and Tommy Howe's birthdays. Then we played marbles to see who would win the other piece of cake. I won. After I finished we went home. Text of Gould-U. of M. Letters

Following are two letters concerning the termination of negotiations between the Trustees of the University of Maine and Gould Academy. The first is by Dr. Lawrence M. Cutler of the University, and the second by Sidney W. Davidson, president of the Gould Trustees.

University of Maine
Orono, Maine

March 24, 1966

Dr. Sidney W. Davidson
Davidson, Dawson & Clark
63 Wall Street
New York, N. Y. 10065

Dear Mr. Davidson:

It is with great regret that I must on behalf of the Trustees of the University of Maine ask that our negotiations with the Trustees of Gould Academy for the acquisition of the campus at Bethel be terminated.

Our faculty committee has visited Bethel and with our staff projected the costs of providing a quality two-year college program there. On the basis of that projection we have had to conclude that the costs of such a program are so much higher than at Orono or Portland that we cannot in good conscience ask the Legislature for the additional operating and capital funds that would be required at Gould especially when other demands upon us are so urgent.

In addition to our own regrets, we know that this action will cause keen disappointment to the Gould Trustees who have labored to make a college program available in Bethel. We apologize deeply for the delay this will cause you but we feel it better to stop now than to fail later.

May I say in closing that your group has been most cooperative and that you did everything possible for us to develop a college program at Bethel.

Sincerely yours,

Lawrence M. Cutler

Re: Gould Academy—University of Maine

Dear Dr. Cutler:

Thank you for your letter of March 24, 1966, which just reached me by registered mail. You ask on behalf of the trustees of the University that your negotiations with Gould be terminated. Your letter makes clear that the University has terminated the negotiations and has reversed its former position with respect to the acquisition of the Gould campus.

On June 18, 1965, following a joint meeting in Bethel of the trustees of Gould and of the University Dr. Lloyd H. Elliott, then President of the University, wrote me about the proposed establishment on the Gould campus of a branch college of the University. He said:

"It is thrilling to be part of what the historians may some day interpret to be one of the most forward looking progressive steps ever made in Maine."

We regret that the trustees of the University are no longer of that opinion. The trustees of Gould continue to believe that the gift to the University of the Gould campus including buildings having an insured value of about $500,000 and well developed athletic facilities would have constituted materially to the opportunities for higher education in the State.

We are mortified by your statement that your rejection is due to the estimated cost of operating a college at Bethel. Facts and figures show the cost of operation of our plant have been at the disposal of the University for over 16 months. Before negotiations began, you sent a member of your staff to our campus on November 2 and 4, 1964, for the purpose of making studies to determine whether it would be feasible for the University to use our plant.

On several occasions University officials told us that the University had completed its studies of operating costs and that the studies showed that the establishment of a branch of the University in Bethel would be feasible having in mind that the campus would be acquired by gift. On August 26, 1965, the Lewiston Daily Sun quoted President Elliott of the University as saying of the plan to acquire the Gould campus:

"To operate the plant as it is now would be far less costly to the people of Maine than any other comparable campus situation which could be provided."

We are aware of no material changes in costs since that date. Our negotiations during the past six months have related solely to the provisions of the proposed agreement between Gould and the University. We have resolved to the University's satisfaction every question which the University raised relating to the form and substance of that agreement.

We first learned that the University did not wish to go forward with the agreement when President Young telephoned me on Tuesday last. Your letter to me followed. Gould had been relying implicitly upon assurances from the University that a branch college at Gould was a sound development supported with enthusiasm by the trustees and the administration of the University.

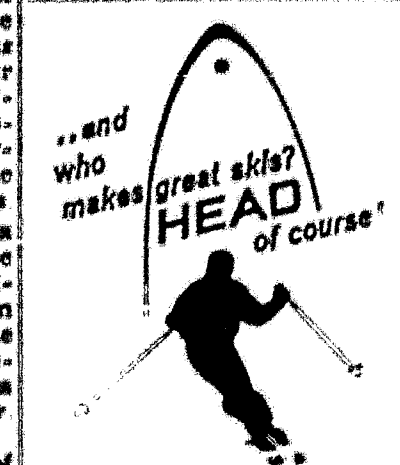

Both our Board and yours are committed to serving education in the State of Maine. I am sure that the relations between the two institutions will continue to be cordial.

The Gould trustees will now start afresh in planning the future of Gould. President Young offered the assistance of the University in that planning. We shall be happy to avail ourselves of his offer.

Sincerely yours,

Sidney W. Davidson

D. E. D. REPORTS

SKI OPERATORS HAVING GOOD SEASON

Maine ski area operators, especially those in the so-called "snow belt" of western Maine, are reporting not only their most successful season, but one that could be among the longest in the past decade, according to the Maine Department of Economic Development.

Commissioner Stanforth E. Bachman said Monday that a cost check by the department's vacation travel promotion division indicates that the Pine Tree State is enjoying the best skiing season in the northeast and that the ski season may extend well into the month of May. A two to ten inch snowfall last week and in the Kingdom, Rangeley, Bethel and Greenville regions produced conditions described by many as "just like velvet". The latest storm followed two weeks of "good to excellent" spring skiing, and assured these western areas of at least three to five weeks more skiing, barring warm rains or a prolonged thaw.

Sugar loaf, Saddleback, Sunday River, Mt. Abram and Squaw Mt. report complete cover with snow depths up to 64 inches.

Bachman also noted that the areas reported an out-crowding in the total number of out-of-state skiers, indicating that increased advertising by the respective areas, coupled with the department's national advertising and promotional program may have contributed largely to the gain.

The Commissioner praised the ski area operators for advances being made in the industry.

"We may have been late in getting into the ski business, but our operators are meeting the challenge of competitive ski areas with smart area management and by providing the skiing public with the latest in equipment and facilities," he said.

Although Easter is one of the most ancient Christian feasts, the name by which it is known often are not Christian at all. In France, Easter is called Pâques, in Italy it is called Pasqua, and in Spanish speaking nations it is called Pascua. World Book Encyclopedia notes that all three words are derived from the Hebrew word Pesach, which is the name for the Jewish feast of Passover. The English word Easter may have come from Eastre, a Teutonic goddess of spring, or from the Teutonic festival of spring called Eostur.

The Easter bunny may originally have been the Egyptian rabbit, but in ancient Egypt the rabbit symbolized birth and new life, and some ancient peoples considered it a symbol of the moon. World Book Encyclopedia says the rabbit may have become an Easter symbol because the moon determines the date of Easter.

After being shipped overseas, the dogs are quarantined for 21 days, then are classified as either potential rabid dogs or entry dogs.

The highly trained German shepherds are capable of detecting enemies, whether hidden in streams, underground tunnels, or buildings. They can locate the hidden enemy in much the same way as a bird dog tracks down the hunter's quarry.
